

Rules and conditions

Camera surveillance is carried out at the arena with the purpose to maintain security and order, crowd management and investigate suspected crimes. For security reasons, a security check is made when visitors enter the venue and fenced areas in central Falun. Skid-VM i Falun AB reserves the right to deny entry to the venue to persons who refuse a security check. Tickets are non-refundable.

Visitors are subject to a security search upon entry.

It is prohibited to bring:

- Weapons and ammunition.
- Pyrotechnics and other flammable/explosive substances.
- Alcohol and drugs.
- Other objects that may pose a danger to public order and safety.

It is also not permitted to bring objects that symbolize a nation competing in accordance with AIN status according to FIS.

Anyone who carries objects that, due to special circumstances, may be used as an aid in a crime, is not allowed to enter the venue.

It is not permitted to enter the track or competition area, or in any way attempt to obstruct or interfere with athletes during training or competition. This is a subject to legal penalties and criminal liability. .

Anyone under the influence of alcohol or drugs, as well as anyone wearing clothing or carrying items with text or symbols expressing contempt for any ethnic group or making references to gender, skin color, ethnic or national origin, language, religion, disability, sexual orientation, age, or any other personal characteristic, will not be granted entry to the venue or other areas in central Falun designated by the WSC.

Animals are prohibited at the venue – with the exception of service dogs.

Anyone who violates these rules of conduct, intentionally facilitates or contributes to violations within the venue, or otherwise commits offenses in breach of the law, may be denied entry, removed from the venue, have items confiscated, and may be reported to the police authorities in accordance with the Act on Admission Bans for Sports Events or other applicable Swedish legislation. Tickets will not be refunded.